"WESTWARD HO!"

By CHARLES KINGSLEY

AT the age of 13, Amyas Leigh yearned to go to sea and fight the Spaniards, whose rising power in the 16th century was a serious threat to England.

Amory was a tall, powerful youth. He constantly scrapped with the other boys at school, and at last his parents sent him to sea under the famous Captain Drake!

In the three years that followed, Ameyo sailed around the world with Drake. After numerous victories over the Spaniards, he returned to Bideford, where the people held a public holiday for Ameyo and the other returned Devon heroes. During his short stay at Bideford, Ameyo fell in love with the much-sought-after Rose Satterne, the Mayor of Bideford's daughter.

Amoyos and the men of Devon drove the Spaniards off when they attacked Ireland in 1580. Amoyos captured an important prisoner, Don Guzman. He was a handsome youth. Amoyos left him with Sir Richard Grenville, as a "guest," until his ransom should arrive from Spain.

Some time later, Amyos joined an expedition for Newfoundland and Labrador, headed by Sir Humphrey

Gilbert. The expedition failed. Amos returned to England heavy-hearted—to meet with more sad news! In his absence, his prisoner Don Guzman had run off with Rose Salterne!

Headed by Amyon, a number of Rose's disappointed suitors organized an expedition to rescue her from the Spaniard! One hundred picked men made up the crew of the boat, which they called "The Rose." Rose's father, furious at the Spaniard, paid the cost of the expedition.

Having heard that Don Gusman was governor of La Guayra, in the Caribbean the Rose sailed southward.

They captured Spanish ships and gathered a large store of treasure. After stopping at many tropical ports they at last found Roca at La Guayra, but she refused to leave Don Guzman. Through the treachery of one of his men, Amoyos and his men were beaten. They escaped to their boat and went on to new adventures, among them the capture of a Spanish gold train.

Amyos and his men were carefully hidden in the woods. They knew that a gold train would pass

After a bit, the groans of the Negroes and Indians under the whip of the Spaniards could be heard, and they knew the train was approaching. A line of Negroes and Indians including women, were chained together and carried heavy baskets strapped onto their heads. In those baskets was gold!

Amyra and his men leaped into the Spaniards midst and after 10 minutes of furious fighting not a Spaniard was left alive!

"We are your friends," Amyos said to the Indians. "All we ask is, that you shall help us carry this gold down to the Magdalena, and then you are free."

Amyos and the 43 men of his crew returned to England, rich with treasure.

But Rose Salterne, Amyas learned, had been burnt by the Spaniards as a heretic! He vowed that he would kill Spaniards by land or sea wherever he met them!

Then came the great Armada! England routed it completely but Amyra steadily pursued one of the Spanish boats long after the fighting was over the boat carrying Don Guzman! A storm came up and Amyra saw the sea swallow the boat taking his hated enemy to a watery death. Then a lightning bolt struck Amyra and he was killed.

Amyos returned to Eldelford and his mother, and the burden of the hero's blindness was somewhat lessened by his marriage to Ayacnora, a lovely Indian girl.

vancing slowly, in respect to the thunder-gun that Terry carried. When he lifted it, they fell flat on their faces and inched along, hidden by the grasses that grew hip-high in these wilds. Even so, when Terry next sighted at a sudden quiver in these grasses, a man jumped up, ran forward a few steps, and reeled over, to lie still.

"Number two," chorled Terry. "Maybe they'll talk peace after this."

He felt his gun jump from his hand. Terry leaped to his feet, clutching desperately at the disappearing rifle as it soared high above him toward the top of the cliffs under which he stood.

"Nice thing to get caught like this," he snapped. "One of them gets up on the cliff and issues my ride."

The fair-haired men started toward him, shouting and yelling, brandishing their spears and swords. Terry started to grasp the revolver that hung about his waist, but the yellow-haired men swarmed over him in a fighting mob. With fists swinging, hitting straight and hard, Terry went down amidst a dozen big fighters.

He could hear N'Ganda fighting beside him, panting and breathing heavily. But the odds were too great. There were twenty men to their two. A club brought swift unconsciousness to N'Ganda, while Terry was bound and strapped to a heavy war-spear without being rendered unconscious.

By long marches the fair-skinned men arrived at last before a small opening in the thorn bush that started from the great cliff and surrounded the entire valley. Through a small opening in the boma went the Olden Ones.

Far ahead Terry could see a walled city. That was the place he had searched for—to find Jim Liveright! He closed his eyes. He had failed! And for himself, he had nothing to look forward to—but death!

JUNIOR FEDERAL MEN CLUB

Conducted By STEVE CARSON

HELLO again, Members! This month, with Spring and the call of the great outdoors upon all of us, I'd like to talk to you about conservation—not only conservation of the natural resources of our country, but of our own lives and limbs.

A lot of us will be going on hikes and camping trips. That sort of thing is loads of fun, and it's good for all of us. But we mustn't forget that there are dangers attached to it, too.

The government has been at considerable pains to reforest certain sections of the country, and to take steps toward conserving existing forests and waterways. It's up to every last one of us to co-operate with the government, particularly since we are Members of the JUNIOR FEDERAL MEN CLUB.

If we build fires for cooking, we should be sure that we build them in cleared places where there will be no danger of starting devastating forest fires. And we should, of course, be absolutely certain that our camp fire is completely extinguished before we break camp. Too, we should not cut firewood without discrimination: dead wood burns better than green wood anyway. And we should be careful not to destroy willfully any of the wild flower growth.

And from a purely personal angle, we should be extremely careful of our own bodies and lives. Taking dangerous leaps and other foolish risks may seem thrilling at the moment, but they are hardly worth while if we break a leg or an arm, or, even, lose our lives.

The temptation to plunge into cool water is great on warm days, but it is an excellent idea to know into what we are plunging. There are such things as quicksand and strong currents to be considered. By and large, it's a good idea to refrain from swimming in any spot unless we know for a fact that it is safe. And of course it goes without saying that being a really good swimmer is essential. There are Y.M.C.A.'s and other clubs all over the country which hold swimming classes either free or for extremely low fees. Every person who does not know how to swim should learn to do so.

While we're on the subject of water, it might be well to point out that boating can also be extremely dangerous. Only those qualified to handle a boat should be trusted to do so.

Suppose you were on a hiking or camping trip and you or one of your companions should receive a burn or a cut or a sprain or even a broken limb. Would you know the proper thing to do between the time of the accident and the time a doctor could be reached? If not, you certainly should take pains to learn. Such knowledge might sometime be the difference between life and death. There are a good many books on First Aid, including the one issued by the Boy Scouts of America. Make it a point to learn the subject thoroughly for even if you never go on a camping trip, knowing what to do in an emergency might still prove to be of great value in your own home.

This month's message may have seemed somewhat "lectury," but it's the duty of every Member of the JUNIOR FEDERAL MEN CLUB to be a good citizen, and good citizenship includes taking care of ourselves and others and all the natural glories of our great country.

Yours for Law and Order!

STEVE CARSON

ANCHORS AWEIGH!

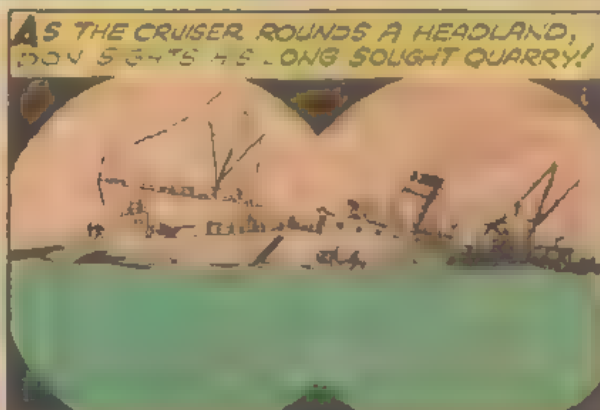

CAPTAIN COFFYN AND HIS CREW OF CUT-THROATS HAVE STOLEN A SUBMARINE AND ARE ENGAGED IN PIRATICAL ACTIVITIES IN THE SOUTH SEAS.

LEUTENANT COMMANDER DON KERRY, ABOARD HIS CRUISER, IS SEARCHING FOR THE STOLEN U. 39 AND ITS PIRATE CREW.

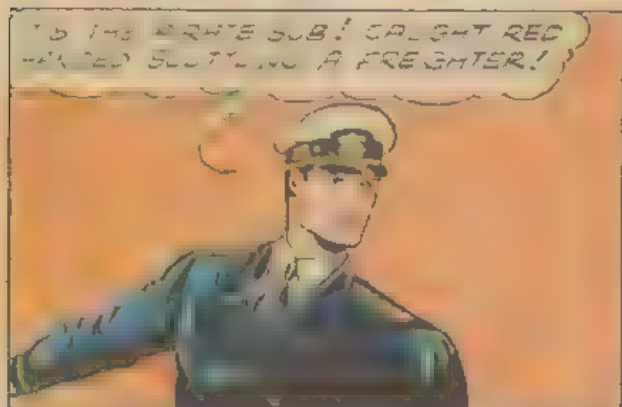

JOE KERRY POINTS OUT THE SKY. IT LOOKS LIKE...

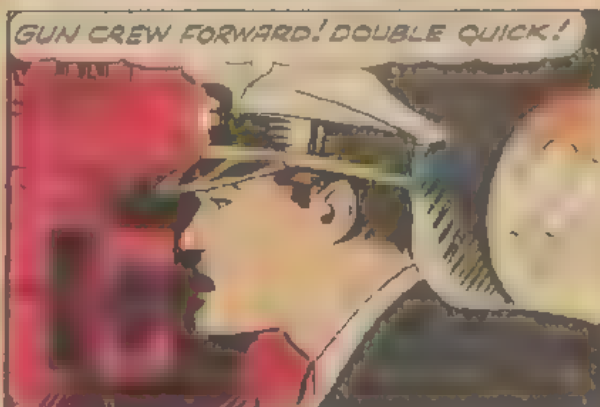

WOW! LOOK!

AS THE CRUISER ROUNDS A HEADLAND, DON SPOTS HIS LONG SOUGHT QUARRY!

TO THE PIRATE SUB! CALLED RED HAIRED SUTTON A FREIGHTER!

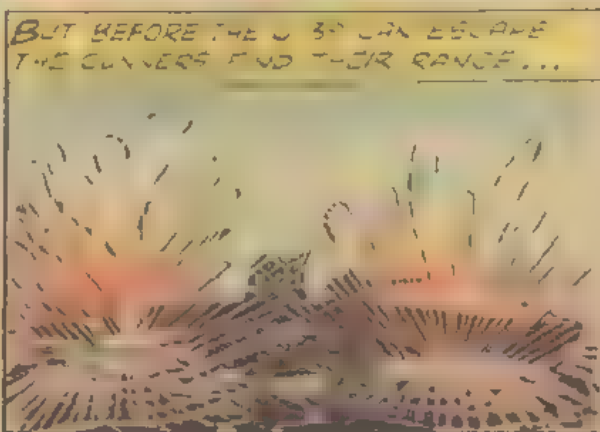

GUN CREW FORWARD! DOUBLE QUICK!

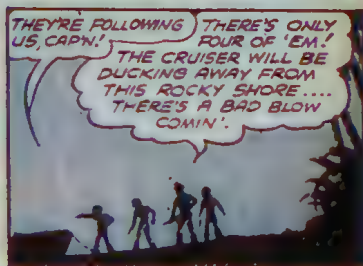

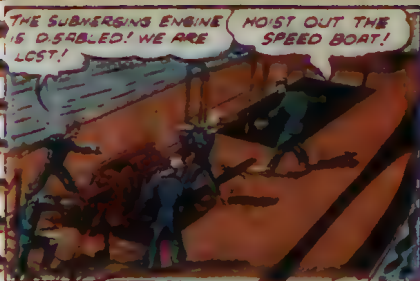

CAST OFF! A CRUISER!

CAST OFF! STAND BY TO SUBMERGE!

BUT BEFORE THE U. 39 CAN ESCAPE THE GUNNERS FIND THEIR RANGE...

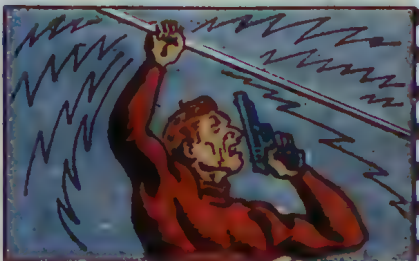

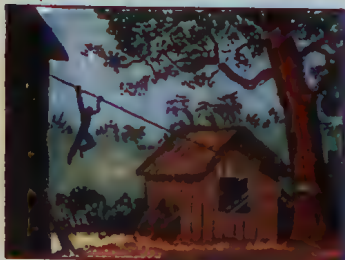

THERE'S A WINDOW IN THE BACK OF THE SHACK. GUSSEY, SKIN DOWN THIS CABLE AND PICK 'EM OFF!

LET'S RUSH THEM!

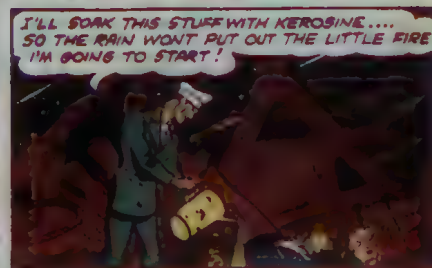

WAIT 'TILL IT RAINS HARDER. IT WILL GIVE US BETTER COVER.

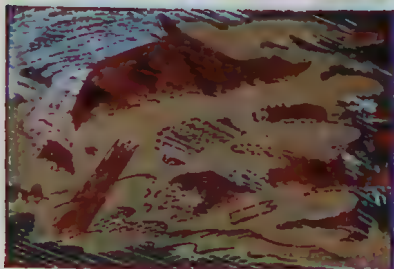

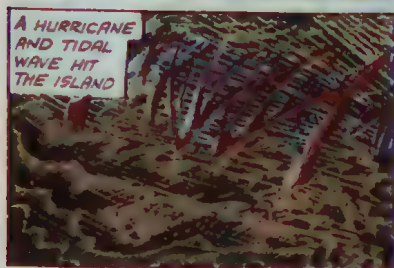

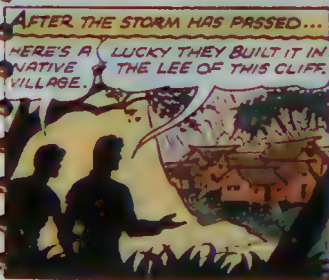

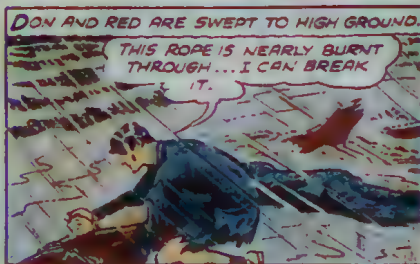

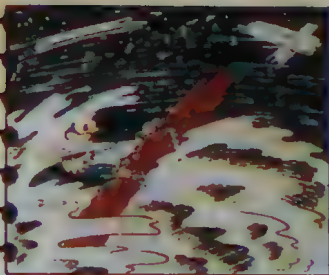

BUNKER! THE LIGHTNING GOT HIM, TOO!

IT RAN UP THE CABLE FROM THE TREE!

RUSTY

AND HIS GANG

IN THE LAST ISSUE ANGUS HAD MADE ARRANGEMENTS
THAT A NATIVE GUIDE THEM TO THE TREASURE. THE NATIVE THOUGH SECRETLY PAID BY THE UNHOLY THREE TO LEAD THEM INTO AN AMBUSH, HAD A PLAN OF HIS OWN.

WELL HERE WE ARE ON THE TRAIL OF A TREASURE!

AND IT WON'T BE LONG AS MY HANDS WILL BE LASHING A FORTUNE!

MONEY MONEY!
I'LL TAKE MY SHARE IN EATS!

AS THEY TALK, THE NATIVE GRINSEVILY TO HIMSELF

FOOLS IF THEY ONLY KNEW WHAT AWAITS THEM!

SOMEHOW I DON'T TRUST THAT NATIVE GUY. HE MAY BE NUTS BUT THERE'S SOME THING FAMILIAR ABOUT—

YOU SAY IT—YOU'RE CRAZY

Y RUSTY OLD FELLOW
THE HEAT HAS GOT YOU!

THAT NIGHT AS THE FRIENDS SLEEP RUSTY KEEPS A WIDE WAKE!

MAYBE THE HEAT HAS GOT ME BUT NOT THE SAME—

CLIMBING THE TREE

THE NATIVE IS AWAY

AND SO, IN HIS HASTE TO QUIT THE DANGEROUS SECTOR, ANGUS
UNWITTINGLY LEADS THEM TO AN EVEN GREATER DANGER!

AREN'T WE EVER GOING TO STOP?

WE'VE BEEN WALKING
ALL NIGHT! MY FEET FEEL AS IF THEY'VE BEEN RUN THROUGH A MEAT GRINDER!

SORRY, LAD, WE DON'T WANT TO BE AROUND WHEN THOSE NATIVES ARRIVE!

SUDDENLY—A VOICE—A HARSH COMMAND

HALT! PUT UP YOUR HANDS!

THE UNHOLY THREE!

I TOLD YOU WE SHOULD MEET AGAIN!

YOU!

HEE! HEE!

YOU BLACK HEARTED
SCOUNDRELS!

HEE! HEE! THE TREASURE MAP!
I HAVE IT! WE SHALL BE RICH!
HEE! HEE!

IT HAS TAKEN US A LONG TIME, BUT NOW
WE SHALL HAVE OUR REWARD
—AND SO SHALL YOU—SO SHALL YOU!

THEY WILL NOT GET FREE NOW!

A DAYS WANDERING IN THE JUNGLE, AND THEN AT LAST—

HEE HEE
AT LAST!
OH, THE IDOL! I CAN HARDLY WAIT—THE PRETTY IDOL!

BY THE MAP THIS SHOULD BE THE EXACT SPOT WHERE THE IDOL IS BURIED! WE'VE ARRIVED!

THE DIGGING BEGINS—THEN

MY SHOVEL HIT SOMETHING—IT MUST BE THE IDOL!

A MOMENT LATER—AN OBJECT GLEAMING IN THE SUN
—THE IDOL!

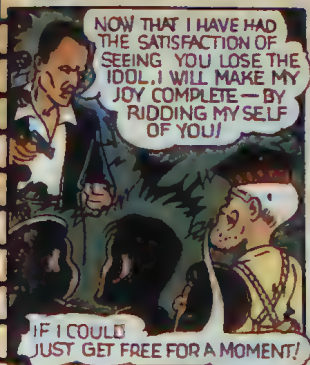

IT'S BEAUTIFUL!

ONCE MORE I HOLD A TREASURE IN MY HANDS!

HERE,
LET ME HOLD IT!
THE PRETTY IDOL!

WELL, ANGUS, THERE GOES YOUR TREASURE
—THEY'VE GOT IT!

BLAST THE BLOOMIN' IDOL!
I'M WORRYIN' WHAT'S GOIN' TO HAPPEN TO YOU LADS!

NOW THAT I HAVE HAD THE SATISFACTION OF SEEING YOU LOSE THE IDOL, I WILL MAKE MY JOY COMPLETE—BY RIDDING MYSELF OF YOU!

IF I COULD JUST GET FREE FOR A MOMENT!

THEN—A HISS—
—A SCREAM!!

OH, THE PRETTY IDOL!
AAAGH!

FROM THE DWARF'S NECK
—A POISONED DART!

DEAD!
DEAD!

THE JUNGLE SEEMS ALIVE WITH NATIVES!

DO NOT MOVE
ELSE YOU TOO WILL DIE!

ZOROFF AND KARL ARE TIED!

WE TAKE THESE MEN TO THE VILLAGE, AND RETURN THE IDOL TO THE SACRED ALTAR!

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN INTO THE FIRE, EH, LAD?

YEAH AND IT LOOKS AS IF WE'RE GOING TO GET BURNT!

POOR TINO! EVEN THOUGH HE WAS SUCH A MCKED LITTLE FELLOW, I FEEL SORRY FOR HIM!

BRING THEM CLOSER, I WOULD SEE THE CURSED WRETCHES CLOSER!

I COME, O KING, BRINGING BACK OUR SACRED IDOL AND THE INFIDELS WHO DARED THEFT IT!

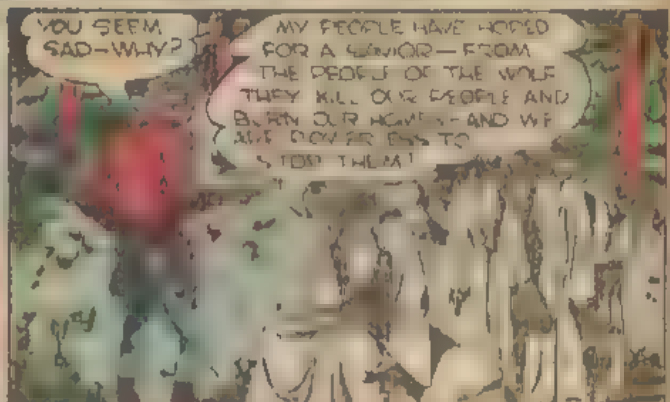

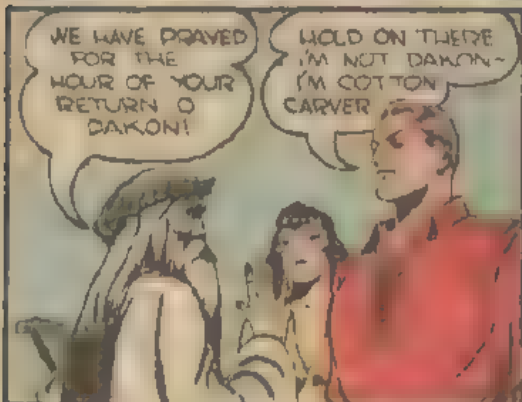

BUT WHAT NEXT IS IN STORE FOR OUR FRIENDS? WHAT CHANCE HAVE THEY FOR ESCAPE?

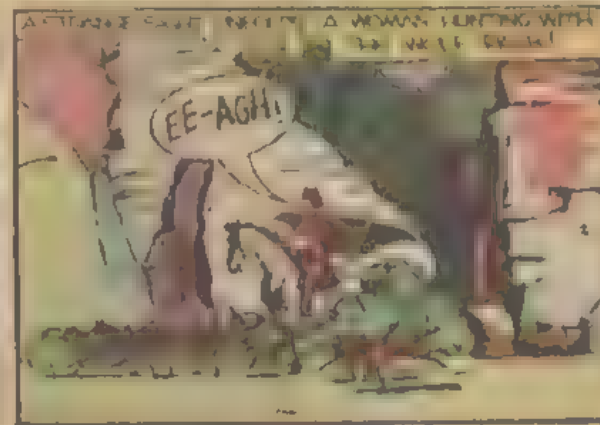

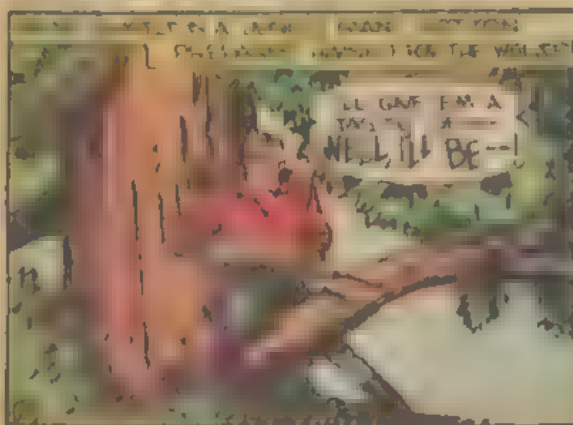

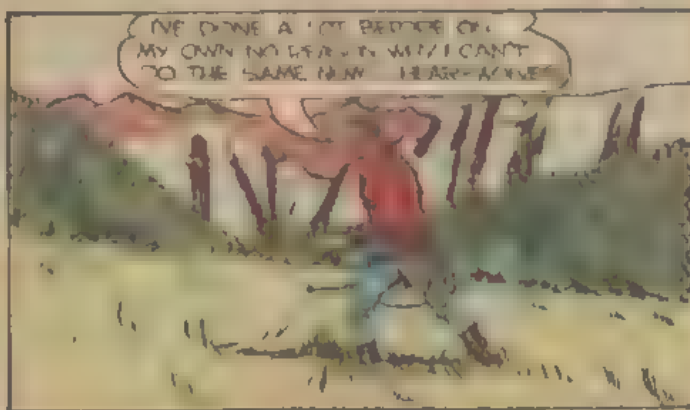

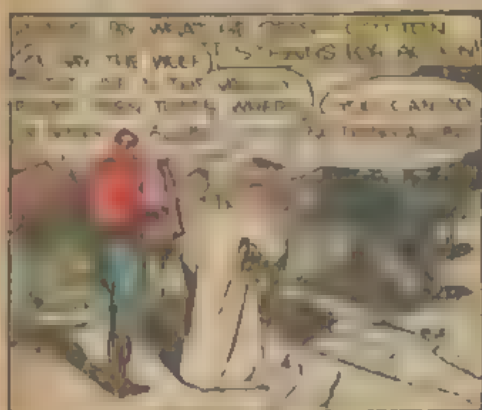

DON'T MISS NEXT MONTH'S EXCITING ISSUE OF RUSTY AND HIS PALS!
